

Michael Seaman

TRINITY LIFE (DOWNTOWN)

About the Family

Mike is the son of a father from NYC and a mother from Thailand. He was raised in a family having a pluralistic background that moved all over the world. Mike saw his parents come to faith, which vaulted him into the faith.

Missy, on the other hand, was born and raised in Raleigh, N.C., where she was never told about Jesus until meeting Mike in college. Mike married Missy in 2004 after leading her to Christ two years earlier. Since then, they have lived out their faith all over the world and had two amazing daughters, Emerson and Reagan.

Missy had a successful career in business and Mike served as a theology professor and a youth minister before following God's call to plant a church. As they prayed through this calling, God laid three criteria on their hearts for church planting: 1) Plant in a city that is global. 2) Plant in a city that is statistically unchurched. 3) Plant in a city that can influence culture, create culture and disseminate culture.

About the Church Plant

In 2013, Mike and Missy parachuted into downtown Toronto with zero relationships in the city. They launched Trinity Life alongside one of the first families they met, Daniel and Linda Yang, in September 2013, in downtown Toronto.

Trinity Life is a unique church on a few levels:

1) Diversity: Trinity Life consists of 20+ ethnicities. 2) Societal Engagement: Trinity Life focuses not just on being for our city, but working with our city. 3) Leadership: Trinity Life is team-led by two co-pastors.

Everything at Trinity Life Church reflects and is propelled by this vision statement: Discovering Your Identity and Destiny in Christ, Influencing Our City and the World.
