

Royce Gregory

MILL CREEK COWBOY CHURCH (MADISON/PAINESVILLE)

About the Family

Pastor Royce is originally from Texas. He is a retired bull-rider who has a passion for spreading the gospel to the country culture. Royce has been married to Patty, a native of Ohio, for 20 years. Together they have been ministering to men and women through outreaches and Bible studies.

They have established an outreach to underprivileged children called Spur Cross Youth Outreach (named after the ranch where they first met). This a day camp that allows kids to experience the cowboy way of life for a day. Included in the day is horseback riding, a chuck-wagon lunch and, of course, the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Their daughter Abbey has always been a huge part of their ministry. God has given her an unbelievable voice to minister in music. She now attends Oceans Edge school of worship in Ft. Lauderdale and hopes to one day be involved in worldwide missions to youth through her music.

About the Church Plant

Mill Creek Cowboy Church is the second plant for Pastor Royce Gregory and his wife, Patty. Life Brand Cowboy Church was the first, planted seven years ago. Mill Creek exists for the purpose of reaching the western and country culture of northeast Ohio with the gospel of Jesus Christ. A strong emphasis is placed on salvation and teaching each individual how to seek God's vision for his or her life. Royce and Patty believe God created each individual for good works through Jesus Christ. Mill Creek Church has pledged 50 percent of tithes and offerings to support other ministries.
