About the Family

Warren is a native of greater Seattle. His journey has taken him all over the United States, but his heart for the Pacific Northwest drew him back to Bellevue. He and his wife, Leah, have been married for 20 years and have two beautiful children. Krista (14) is a high school student and Micah (11) is a middle school student. Warren has a passion for young people, families and those who feel like they are on the outside looking in. He strives to share a message filled with hope and inspiration: that a life devoted to Jesus is essential to joy, meaning and purpose.

In addition to ministry, Warren has a passion for snowboarding, tennis, fantasy football, the UW Huskies and the Seattle Seahawks. Warren has twice served as the president of the Eastgate Expounders Toastmasters Club and is the Seattle area director for Generation LINK. Warren also serves as a board member for the Pillar Network.

About the Church Plant

Essential Church is a new church in Bellevue with a vision to magnify Christ and multiply His kingdom in all we do. We are a church that believes in and teaches the Bible. We serve and love all people and believe that Jesus can do great things in our lives, community, church and world when we live surrendered to Him and His Word.

Essential is a place for singles, couples and families of every race and color. We care for one another, and we want everyone to know the love of Jesus. We are a church that is committed to church planting and disciple-making. Although we are still a small, young church, we have planted a Chinese church in Bellevue and a new church work in Issaquah, Wash.
