IMPACT MIAMI CHURCH (NORTH MIAMI)

About the Family

Pastor Jack and Jhael Hakimian sensed God's call in 2008 to move from Los Angeles to South Florida to plant small, missional churches, disciple families and do holistic work.

Jack and Jhael met on the college campus of Azusa Pacific University in 1995. They got married January 3, 1998. They now have four boys: Jacob, Jeremiah, Josiah and Joel. They are the "J" family!

Jhael is finishing up her bachelor's degree in education. She directs the tutoring, music and kids ministry. Jack has more than 15 years of ministry experience in diverse cultural settings: Armenian, African, Hispanic, Anglo American and Hip Hop. He graduated in 2003 with a Bachelor of Arts in biblical studies and pastoral ministry from Life Pacific College and in 2008 from Fuller Theological Seminary with a Master of Arts in cross-cultural studies.

Jack is half Lebanese Armenian and half West African Liberian. He became a Christian in the L.A. County jail. The Hakimians have a dream to see revival in South Florida.

About the Church Plant

On April 3rd, 2010, Impact Miami Church was prayed over and commissioned by Oasis Church South Florida to start a new church in Miami under the leadership of Pastor Jack and Jhael Hakimian and the church plant team. As a new missional church, they are under the covering of the Miami Baptist Association and the Florida Baptist Convention.

Impact's mission is to abide in continuous relationship with Jesus Christ while developing disciples in His name (John 15; Matthew 28:18-20).
