THE REDWOOD PROJECT (REDWOOD CITY VICINITY)

About the Family

Called from a world of Fortune 500 corporations and small start-ups to join God's work in the Bay Area, my wife Patti and I are very excited about this mid-life vocational change. A successful career in military, business and entrepreneurial settings has made me comfortable and adept at interacting with the "rich young rulers" found in the Redwood City area.

As a veteran of multiple start-up situations, I am skilled at casting a vision, securing resources and motivating teams. I am able to apply theological truths to daily life, teaching others to do the same. As a couple, we have decades of ministry experience in lay leadership, small group teaching, one-on-one mentoring and church administration.

Patti and I enjoy a strong and vibrant marriage that has successfully weathered the storms of life: raising four children to adulthood in a blended family; job changes and layoffs; sickness and death of family members; walking with love through substance abuse, cynicism and materialism.

About the Church Plant

Have you ever stood beneath the mighty redwood trees of the San Francisco peninsula? They are breathtaking to behold. From a seed, God grows a tree that will live for centuries, providing sustenance and shelter to countless other creatures. We believe God is at work on the peninsula, raising new shoots from seeds He planted for a time such as this (Ezekiel 17:22-24).

Our church will engage its community, lovingly accepting people as they are and praying for God to change their hearts and lives. We will show others how to follow Jesus, preaching the Bible without apology. We will have missions in our DNA, looking outward to minister. Our church will welcome challenging questions, confident the Bible has the answers.
