VENTURE CHURCH (FALLSTON)

About the Family

Thank you for checking out Venture Church. Allow me to introduce my family and myself. My name is Josh Fields, my wife's name is Christen and that little guy between us is Camden. We also have another on the way!

I grew up in Edgewood, Md., with parents who were very active in the church. At the age of 6, I became a believer in Christ and His power to rescue me from my sins. I grew up in one of the largest Southern Baptist Churches in Maryland and spent the majority of my time in the music program. I took my first full-time position as a worship leader in 2010 in Tennessee.

In 2012, I was called back to Maryland to serve as a worship and pastoral care leader in Baltimore. In 2013, I was ordained into the gospel ministry and became the pastor of music/worship and pastoral care.

About the Church Plant

The mission of Venture Church: "Inviting people to engage others by experiencing Jesus."

A total of 66,000 people reside in our target area, and 82 percent are lost. Further, drugs and lostness are not just a Baltimore city problem. Heroin has reached into the suburban areas of Harford County and into Fallston, Md. Children as young as 11 are now engaged in this epidemic. To date, 27 deaths have been recorded due to heroin overdoses.

Fallston, serving as a strategic area has no Southern Baptist church. It is through contact with the lost in our target area that they will be reached through evangelism and disciple making.
