About the Family

Jared and Corrie Burwell have lived in the Seattle area for many years. Corrie was born and raised here. After serving on staff at another church in Renton for four years, they were commissioned to plant a church where the gospel had made little impact. They fell in love with the urban neighborhood of Skyway and are now raising their family there.

Before the start of 2016, Jared worked multiple jobs while planting the church, knowing that the dynamics of this neighborhood called for a slow, trust-building approach. Jared and Corrie are excited to see the work grow in impact and multiply in disciples. They have six children (including two sets of twins!): Collin, Moriah, Alaina, Megan, Jasmine and Mika.

About the Church Plant

NewStory Church is a spiritual family planted within southeast Seattle's diverse community of Skyway. We are a place where unattached individuals, broken families, ordinary people and folks who consider themselves "far from God" can find belonging, experience His redemption and discover the significant work He has for them to do. We recognize the serious condition of our neighborhood, and we take serious the responsibility to follow Jesus here. We hang onto the gospel, love our brothers and sisters fiercely, fight for one another and make disciples every place we go.

Our mission is to see people belonging to God's family, becoming more like Jesus and bringing the hope of the gospel back to the neighborhood.
