

Augustine Hui

METAIRIE CHURCH (FAT CITY–METAIRIE, LA.)

About the Family

Raised in Brooklyn, N.Y., by his parents, Rev. Mark and Mrs. Florence Hui, Augustine grew up experiencing a life of ministry as his family established the first Chinese Baptist Church in Brooklyn more than 40 years ago.

Eventually, God also called Augustine into ministry during his years studying at Baylor University in Waco, Texas. After finishing his bachelor's degree in Political Science and Church Music, he moved to New Orleans in 2012 to attend New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. In order to prepare for his calling in ministry, Augustine has completed a Master of Music degree and is currently working on his Master of Divinity degree at NOBTS.

Some of his passions include worship music, technology and learning about different cultures. As you get to know him more you will also see his enthusiastic love for food.

About the Church Plant

Metairie Church is a church plant of First Baptist Covington located in the diverse neighborhood of Fat City in Metairie. Our desire is to make Jesus famous by making disciples of all people, especially those around us, and we are working to disciple our church members to reach out to the apartment complexes and businesses next door.

Our congregation is a melting pot of wonderful, diverse people, from millennials to grandparents, who all hope to engage our neighborhood with the gospel. We have loved watching God grow our church members spiritually and bring new believers to us, and we pray that we will be obedient as He leads us to disciple even more.
